Amish craftsmanship makes the difference.

Before the sun comes up, and the rooster crows, the Amish have begun their day. Morning chores on the farm start very early, and after a hearty breakfast and a prayer of thanks, the family begins work in the wood shop. Because their shops are not equipped with electricity, the Amish work exclusively with hand tools. With attention to detail and craftsmanship, much time and care is given to their craft creating heirloom works of art. Amish cabinetmaking is a family business, and the small children watch and learn with anticipation. Hard work and dedication is the Amish way of life, but they also take time to play. Sunday is a day of rest, reflection and thanks for their many blessings.

The quality and lasting beauty of Amish crafted furniture is respected and revered nation wide. Because Amish craftsmen get their inspiration as well as their guidance from their ancestors, you are buying a piece of American family history. Beneath the hand rubbed finish, the elegant grain and the subtle details, lies generations of commitment to quality and hard work.

More than just beautiful cabinets, Rosemark custom Amish cabinetry reflects who you are, and the memories you want to create. Your Rosemark kitchen will be the heart of your home. Rosemark, the mark of excellence.

Add a slide out cutting board to give you that extra work space you may feel your smaller kitchen is lacking.
